

Center for Learning and Innovation in Medical Education (CLIME)
All interested in growing as educators in the health professions welcome!
CLIME@UW.EDU ~ @UW\_CLIME
Developed in collaboration with the 2022-2023 CLIME Teaching Scholars Cohort

HIGH YIELD RESOURCES

There are many succinct and high yield resources from reputable sources to support educators. Here are a few to know about!

Academic Medicine Last Pages: A collection of nearly 200 one page infographic style publications explaining key topics.

Academic Life in Emergency Medicine: A virtual startup focused on career development and community building offering an array of resources. Their library offers free books and blog posts.

Best Evidence in Medical Education Reviews: An international group which develops evidence informed, published reviews of the literature.

Dr-Ed Listserv: An electronic discussion group to facilitate information and resource sharing among medical educators.

Just in Time Teaching Tools App: A free phone app offering evidence-based, succinct foundational, classroom, and clinical teaching tips.

Journal of Graduate Medical Education Rip Outs: Brief publications to facilitate quick reading, with a specific problem or challenge, key evidence and best practices from the literature, and clear action steps.

KeyLime Podcast: A podcast produced by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada discussing the key points of articles in 30 minutes or less.

MedEdPearls: A series of more than 40 blog posts on applied topics written by education program developers across the United States housed on the Harvard Macy Institute Community Blog. [Type MedEdPearls into the search box in the upper right hand corner.]

Medical Teacher Twelve Tips: Series of publications offering twelve key evidence informed tips to educators on core topics.